

A 10x10 grid of numbers 0-9. Each number is constructed from a chain of circles. The pattern of circles varies by row and column, creating a complex, abstract visual structure. The numbers are arranged in a regular grid, with each number occupying a single cell. The circles are black and have a consistent size and thickness. The background is white.

